Dear Journal,

The Carver boys. I fondly refer to the as the "Carver Brats". Lorenzo, who is now 11, thinks that he is just like our pa, and that he can treat us like that. He always gets the biggest piece of meat and always eats first.

Amos is not as bad. Although he is still one of the Carver Boys he is 20 and a little more mature than Lorenzo. If there ever was a real pa in our family, I think it would be Amos. He at least looks out for us girls.

George can be a pest. He joined our family. God help him, when his parents died. I know how that must feel with our ma being gone and all. It ain't too fun.
